Intergral GmbH:

Announcing immediate release of Tornado Business Center™ Version 3.0

Böblingen, November 25, 2005. Intergral announced the latest version of their flagship product Tornado Business Center™ today. Release 3.0 presents itself as a highly flexible web-based information portal with new features in the desktop integration and content management areas.

The main focus of this release has been to make the portal more integrated with common office applications and the desktop environment. New features include, the ability to drag & drop objects directly into the application, simple integration with Microsoft Outlook and Lotus Notes and an improved Navigator component.

Tornado Business Center™ is the ideal solution for medium-sized or large enterprises, which operate in a dynamic environment and would like to administer their business information intelligently. Sophisticated personalization features, combined with flexible access rights, guarantee that each user receives exactly the information that he/she needs, on a personalized, just in time, business relevant basis. This ensures that information is found faster and can be used more efficiently. Through the use of innovative technologies Tornado Business Center™ can be deployed rapidly and thus deliver immediate benefits. Tornado Business Center™ offers performance, scalability, usability and functionality on enterprise level.
